
Networking Lunch: Infrastructure for Pragmatic Science Implementation Labs/P50

Ross Brownson, PhD; Kate Guastaferrero, PhD; Russell Glasgow, PhD

Discussion Topics:

Different meanings and types of 'implementation labs'- why they are needed and how they are different than traditional scientific laboratories

Examples of different types of labs – variations across clinical, public health, and community-based (e.g., NGOs) settings.

Participant experience with implementation labs – including benefits and challenges

Questions and discussion about creating and using implementation labs in pragmatic research- especially given COVID and ongoing uncertainties; rapidly changing context

Other- emerging issues
